OUT OF JAIL.

Three of the Bond Outrage Prisoners Admitted to Jail in the sum of $11,000.

JOHN C. MONTGOMERY IN DECATUR.

The latest phase in the Emma Bond outrage case occurred yesterday forenoon, when John C. Montgomery, Lee Pettis, and Emanuel Clement, three of the alleged guilty parties, were discharged from the county jail at Taylorville, the two first named prisoners furnishing bail for their appearance in the sum of $4,000 each, and the latter $3,000 bail. A telegram and a gentleman in Decatur to-day that the three men quickly took their departure from the jail and got aboard the Wabash passenger train at the station yesterday forenoon and started East.

The three men left Taylorville yesterday forenoon for Blue Mound, and on the arrival of the Wabash train at that point they got off and departed for their homes, nine miles west of that village.

A VISIT FROM MONTGOMERY.

To-day noon John C. Montgomery visited Decatur and paid the Republican office a call, in company with his brother-in-law, J. C. Paxton, of this city, and Geo. Pettis, brother of Lee Pettis. Mr. Montgomery states that he is wholly innocent of the terrible charge preferred against him, and that he will succeed in establishing his innocence when the case comes up for a final hearing at Taylorville in November next. He asserts as positively both Pettis and Clement are innocent, because he says he was with them both at the Pettis home between sundown and dark on the evening of June 29th, the day on which the dreadful assault was made.

Mr. Montgomery said he was with his wife and child last night at his home, and intended to stay at home until the time of the trial, as do also Pettis and Clement. According to Montgomery all three released prisoners have no intention of leaving Christian county, but will stay there and appear for trial. He represents that the feeling of the people against himself and Pettis and Clement is on the wane, and that he has no fear of another attack.

Dr. Vermilion is yet in jail, being unable to furnish bail.

During the stay of Montgomery in the Republican sanctum quite a number of people entered and stood upon the pavement to have a look at the man who came near being hanged by a mob, and whose life was saved by the prompt action of A. D. Bond, the father of the outraged girl. Montgomery will go to his home this evening.

Miss Bond's condition remains unchanged. It is now believed that with proper care she will recover.

Wreck on the Wabash.

This morning early a west-bound freight train on the main line of the Wabash road was brought to a sudden stop near Oakley by the breakage of a truck, which threw 15 or 16 loaded cars from the track, and caused a blockade at that point. The damage amounts to over a thousand dollars, but fortunately no one was hurt. The east-bound trains were sent from Decatur over a round about route. The wreck will be cleared away at once, and the running of all trains on schedule time will be resumed this evening.

Death of "Squire" Sower.

We are called upon today to chronicle the death of Squire William H. Sower, an old and highly esteemed citizen of Macon, which took place at his residence in that city on the afternoon of August 31st, in the 55th year of his age. The cause of the death was a severe congestive chill. He leaves several children. Mr. Sower had been a resident of Macon for nearly 20 years, and was well known throughout the county.

"True Devotion."

This beautiful domestic drama will be presented at the Opera House on Monday evening next by the Forbes Company. The leading characters will be personated by the wonderful child artist, little Edna Cottoff and her father, Mr. Ben Cottoff, who will appear in his special capacity, Bob. The company will remain in town during fair week, and there will be a change of bill every night. Prices of admission, 35 and 50 cents, reserved seats, 75 cents. To be had at Curtis & Co's.

Twenty members of Cedar Lake Lodge No. 17, Knights of Pythias, of which Mr. Henry McClellan is C. C., have seen an elegant parade in forms at a cost of $28 each. The uniforms are not gaudy, but they are rich in appearance. They consist of elegant armor with the names of the Knights lettered on the plates, silk caps and velvet coats, each mounted with silver 40s and silver fringe. A new lodge of Knights of Pythias is soon to be instituted at Macon.

The Decatur National Bank talks, Henry Elmer H. Post, the jeweler, and James V. E. the tailor, will occupy rooms on the ground floor of John Ullrich's new building. The second floor rooms have been leased by W. L. Dunsmuir & Co., Dr. Cole, dentist, Henry Mitchell, lawyer, and Pratt & Co. The third floor rooms have not yet been leased. Huston Singleton will open a toney barber shop in the basement under the bank.

It is stated that all the new essay writers and other applicants to be sent for connecting Central Illinois city and towns by telephone have been sent to Bloomington and that the company will at once set a force of men at work placing poles and putting up the wires. Mr. Padde, one of the chief managers, who was in Decatur a few weeks ago, then stated that Decatur would become a twin Springfield before cold weather set in.

It is very likely that Peter Lantz will be engaged in the coaches and carriage line business in Decatur. He has sold his house and reduced the book to Decatur recently, and is now ready for engagements of any character in his line.

The out of the Decatur Rescues against the so-called Muscatine Rescues, for the recovery of cash and other prizes won at the tournament last year, will probably come up in court on the 6th inst. at Muscatine. The claims of our boys will be pushed.

Measles.

Special meeting of Mason Lodge No. 8, A. F. & A. M., on Saturday evening for work in the 4th degree. By order of JOHN HATFIELD, W. M.

A DAMAGING FIRE.

Mr. J. W. Tyler, Jr., Barn Consumed—Loss About $250.

This morning at about 4:30 o'clock, Mr. W. P. Hunter, who was up and about at that early hour on account of sickness in his family, discovered the barn at the rear of No. 108 North Main street, the dwelling on which lot is occupied by Mr. John W. Tyler, Jr., and family, to be on fire. The whole top of the barn was in flames. Without a moment's loss of time Mr. Hunter rescued Mr. Tyler's horse from the doomed barn, and also removed the buggy, the top of which had been burnt off. The first alarm was sounded by the steam whistle at Shellbarger & Co's mill, and the fire bells joined in the grand chorus, which awakened nearly everybody in the city, and kept them awake. The firemen arrived at the scene with their apparatus, but the flames had done their worst, making a complete wreck of the barn and the contents that could not be removed. Adjacent property was protected from destruction by the firemen. The barn was worth about $250 and was owned by Mrs. Susan Olor, sister of Mr. Tyler and widow of the late Hugh Olor. Mr. Tyler's loss is about $50. No insurance. Frequently Mr. Tyler has driven trunks out of the barn, and the presumption is that the ton of hay in the left end of the barn accidentally or purposely by some vagrant who had bunked the cover over night.

Mr. Tyler desires us to return his thanks to the members of the fire department for their prompt arrival and services.

Base Ball Talk.

The Chicago Greens were on yesterday afternoon met at the Park by all the most skillful players belonging to the Decatur Reds, but the visitors were too much for our lads, and won by the following score by innings:

Chicago Greens	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Total

It was a cloudy day, the attendance of visitors was small, and the Reds were in hard luck. At one stage of the game they had three men on bases, and but one man out. Not a run was scored that inning, owing to the fact that the Reds couldn't beat the Green pitcher with any sort of effect. However, the Reds were nifty, and endeavored to make the game as interesting as possible for their opponents and the spectators. The Greens departed for Peoria last night, to play against the Reds in that city, by whom they were defeated not long since.

The captain of the Greens telephoned a reporter of this paper, last evening, from the depot, that the members of his club were dissatisfied with their visit. He declared that he had been promised larger gate receipts, and would write a letter for publication giving a few interesting facts in support of his claims for more money. He was told to send his letter, and if it wasn't too late it would find a place in these columns. He said he would forward it from Chicago. Had the weather been pleasant no doubt the crowds would have been much larger than they were. It is seldom that the gate receipts fall below $50 on fair days. The receipts on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons were but little more than $50.

Judge Thornton's Removal.

In conversation with a reporter last evening, Judge Anthony Thornton stated that he would leave Decatur with his family and effects during next week, and that he would reside permanently at Shelbyville, where he has passed most of his days. The judge recently purchased the Lloyd place, a fine tract of 12 acres with a large house upon it, for which he paid $14,000. This place is on the edge of Shelbyville, and is well stocked with fruit of every description. The judge owns a well improved farm of 320 acres and an acres of timber land within two miles of the public square in Shelbyville, and he intends to give the most of his time in future to farming pursuits. He regrets very much that he is compelled to leave Decatur, for he and his family are strongly attached to this city, because of its companionable people, beautiful residences and charming surroundings, but the judge asserts that the legal business here is distressingly dull, and he and his family have something to employ their time. In his opinion, the people here are quite appealing to the courts for the settlement of difficulties, and not so much as here more frequently many lawyers now occupying their time by jolly hold up down clients in offices will have to go to chopping wood to support themselves and families.

National Camp Meeting.

It is stated that great preparations are making for the national camp meeting to begin at the fair grounds at Lincoln on the 10th of September, and to continue on to and including the 18th. The local ministers of the national association who are expected to be present are the Rev. John S. Lusk, president, Philadelphia; Rev. Wm. May, Boston; Rev. D. C. Cobb, New York; Rev. Wm. Jones, Lawrence; and Rev. Wm. Taylor, the founder of modern self-supporting missions, whose missionary work everywhere is claimed, anything the world has ever known since the days of St. Paul. Mrs. Lusk will also be present and have charge of the children's meeting. A good board of house, sufficient to accommodate all who come, plenty of water, tents, straw, fuel, food for animals, etc., in fact, everything that will be necessary to accommodate the people and make their stay at the camp pleasant, will be provided in abundance. The railroad have agreed to give reduced rates, and everything promises a noble and interesting occasion.

Sixteen well-arranged numbers were drawn by the "Chicago Y. A. O." and friends at their corner at Guards Armory, last night, which proved a most enjoyable affair under the management of Will Lecky and others. Prof. Goodman's orchestra furnished the music, introducing several new and pleasing selections. Dancing continued from 9 until after 12 o'clock.

A great many strangers by the number part of the city had to get up early this morning on account of the Tyler fire. That steam whistle, which Mr. Tyler pronounces the best fire alarm in Decatur by big odds, and the clanging of the hose house bells, were too much for sound sleepers.

Mrs. Andrew Kepler-Gorff has retired from the retail cigar and tobacco business, and has leased the room and sold the stock to Mr. Joseph Stutter, who will engage in the manufacture of cigars at the old stand in the southeast corner of the old square.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Mary Buss, of Springfield, Ohio, and Miss Ella Reame, of Chicago, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. K. Harwood.

Mrs. W. B. Chambers and daughter, Miss Cora, have returned home from Wisconsin.

Harve Stuart, a lightning express messenger of the Pacific Express Company, whose run is between St. Louis and Chicago, is in the city.

J. N. Wilkinson writes us from Springfield that the war will soon be over, so far as he is concerned, and that he will be home again today or to-morrow.

Charles P. Housum, who has been summing along the Atlantic coast with his brother, is expected to arrive home this evening or to-morrow.

Amos Imboden, detective of the Wabash, has 27 alleged criminals in jails in different towns along the line of the road. Amos is a success as "The Ferret."

M. B. Harner, who is in the clothing business at Harbor Springs, Mich., started for his home last night, after a stay of a few days among old friends in Decatur.

Misses Sylvester, of Arcola, and Jennie Moffett, of Jacksonville, were among those who attended the R. Y. dance last evening.

M. E. Schroeder, son and daughter, arrived home this forenoon after a stay of over a month among the Minnesota summer resorts. The health of Mr. S. and his children is greatly improved.

Frank Elwood, having about recovered from his attack of rheumatism, has returned to his duties as salesman at J. R. Luce & Co's store. Frank will soon be lively as ever.

W. H. Elwood, quartermaster of the Fifth Regiment, came up from Camp Carlton last night, snowed at the Saint Nicholas, and returned to Springfield this morning.

Miss Mollie Ferriss has resumed her old place as schoolmistress at Linn & Scruggs' store. She has about recovered from her recent injury sustained by jumping out of a buggy.

John Truener, county superintendent of public schools, was in Centralia and Vanaluta this week, attending meetings of teachers. He will arrive home this afternoon.

Gumby Judge Green visited his office this morning. His attack of yesterday, resulting from a disordered condition of the stomach, has left him rather weak, but he will be as well as ever again in a day or so.

E. A. Gishman arrived home this morning from Centralia, where he yesterday attended the annual meeting of the Southern Illinois Teachers' Association. He gave the Trainer system of graded country schools a warm and engaged in other discussions.

John R. Cairns, esq., late of Peoria, and attorney general of the Peoria, Decatur & Evansville road, and now solicitor in Chicago of the New York, Chicago & Saint Louis railway; Mr. Luther Dearborn, ex-senator from Mason county, and Mr. S. P. Shope, of Fulton county, now circuit judge in the Quincy district, have formed a law co-partnership in Chicago, to begin Sept. 1. Judge Shope will resign his seat upon the bench as soon as he finishes the first term in his circuit.

Ox yesterday afternoon the main parlor at the New Dining Hotel was the scene of an interesting event. It was the marriage of Mr. John E. Barnett and Miss Mary A. Goodell, both of Oregon. The nuptial feast was served by Rev. J. P. Dunmitt, pastor of the First M. E. Church.
